Childers Knight Martin

Out of ten candidates running for city council you are asked to vote for three in the election on Tuesday. The Pine Cone recommends for your serious consideration:

Charles Childers, incumbent.
Allen Knight, incumbent.
Andrew Martin.

If Charles Childers and Allen Knight are willing to undertake another four years on the city council, after all they've been through, the citizens should be tickled to death to elect them with a landslide vote. They've made mistakes, one or two fairly drastic, which is one of the major reasons for re-electing them. Their mistakes are behind them. They are broken in, trained, sadder but wiser alumni, and worth twice as much to the city as any new men who could be elected.

Not only does their experience recommend them, but each has a record of which any city official might well be proud.

This is what Mayor Fred Godwin had to say in letters to them urging them to run for re-election.

To Allen Knight he wrote: "I cannot allow this opportunity to go by without telling you how much you have meant to the city administration all through your present term and what a disruption it would cause if you do not remain on the Council." There follows high praise for the manner in which Knight conducted his department and the letter closes with "We have worked together in the utmost harmony . . . come to know one another's problems and programs in a way that makes for achievement and good management through cooperation together. The community will be the loser if that association is broken up by either of you (Knight and Childers) dropping out."

To Childers the mayor wrote: "I am writing to say that I certainly hope you will file for nomination for re-election on the council and that you will be re-elected. Although it is a hard and thankless job, and you might feel tempted to let someone else have a turn, I do hope you will continue to serve. Yours is the one department with a planned program of work that calls for close acquaintance with rules and laws as to what we can do and what we can not do. In that department you have given freely of your time and effort and, along with the street superintendent, done a very able job. You always know exactly what is going on and bring your department's business before the council in a most efficient and able manner. It would be a serious loss to the whole community if anything should happen to interrupt the service you give."

Mayor Godwin's administration has been one of the most efficient, successful and peaceful that Carmel has known. In the above letters, Godwin makes clear that these men have contributed largely to his success, and asks that the citizens back him up by re-electing his able helpers so he can continue

Clara Kellogg

Clara N. Kellogg, one of Carmel's most respected citizens for over a quarter of a century, died Wednesday night in a local hospital, following a short illness.

Miss Kellogg has been active in the cultural and political life of the community since her arrival here in 1921. She served on the city council from 1930 to 1934, and from 1936 to 1940, and as commissioner of streets was effective in her continuous efforts to see that the beauty of the town remained unmarred.

She participated in various school campaigns, and saw long-term service on the Sunset School board before the Carmel district became unified.

She served on the city planning commission since its inception in February, 1947, and also served continuously as chairman of the board of trustees of the O. W. Bardarson Scholarship fund, since its establishment in 1942. She was a former president of the Womans' Democratic Club of Carmel.

Miss Kellogg was born in Rochester, Minnesota in 1870. She attended school in Rochester and St. Paul, and graduated from the University of Minnesota. She taught school for seven years, six of them in the Central High School in St. Paul. She then did settlement work at the Cottage Settlement in New York City.

Miss Kellogg moved to Tacoma, Washington, and while making her home there came to California for the first time. Friends brought her to Carmel and she decided to make her home here. Her tall figure and kindly blue eyes soon became well known in the community, and she quietly became one of our leading citizens. Her first official position here was as a member of the Harrington subscription library, and when the Harrison Memorial Library was established she was one of the two members of the old library board

PASADENA PLAYHOUSE
39 South El Molino Avenue - Pasadena 1, California
April 5, 1948

Carmel Pine Cone
Carmel, California

Attention: Editor

We understand that a claim has been made that the Pasadena Playhouse is sponsoring a summer stock theatre at the Mission Ranch. May we make it clear once and for all that the idea the Pasadena Playhouse is sponsoring such a project is not a fact. We are not sponsoring any summer stock project in the Monterey Bay Area or anywhere else except in Pasadena as we have done for thirty years.

We understand that Mrs. Marcella Cisney, who is on the staff at the Pasadena Playhouse, is undertaking this project as a personal venture and this does not have the Playhouse's endorsement or sponsorship. Whatever Mrs. Cisney does will be on her own initiative and without our backing. We hope you will give publicity to this fact.

Yours very truly,
Charles F. Prickett
General Manager.

The use of Pasadena Playhouse letterheads in her official communications and an ambiguousness in stating her position, undoubtedly unintentional, is probably responsible for the erroneous impression conveyed by Mrs. Cisney to the Monterey County Planning Commission, and various Monterey citizens, who supported her before the commission.

Without the financial responsibility and the established reputation of the Pasadena Playhouse behind her, Mrs. Cisney's request for the relaxation of the county zoning laws to accommodate her stock company should appeal less than ever to the planning commission or the citizens of this area. —W. C.

Conservation Prize Winners Announced In Today's Assembly

The Pine Cone Conservation Prize will be awarded to the winners of the science class group conservation projects at Carmel High School in today's assembly.

Of the 16 groups competing in conservation projects under the direction of Miss Enid A. Larson, science department, two groups, one on Conservation of Fish and Game, and one on Conservation of Wildflowers will be awarded cash prizes. Honorable mention goes to the group on Game Refuges.

Fish and Game Conservation Group was made up of Jim Hare, Dick Mulholland, Tim McCormick and Lee Laugenour. Wildflower group: Gilbert Neill, Sue McCloud, Francis Shuman, Barbara Balzar, Margot Claypole. Honorable mention group on Game Refuges: Janet Huffman, Allene Knight, Barry Hammer and Douglas Smith.

Judges were Superintendent Stuart Mitchell, Girls' Vice Principal Dorothy Wright, Science Teacher Enid A. Larson and Student Body Vice President Phil Wettengel.

Miss Larsen, one of the leaders in the state-wide Conservation Education movement is enthusiastic over the interest shown by the students in carrying out the projects. In view of the high order of the study and work undertaken in the projects, the Pine Cone has offered to provide a prize of $35 again next year.

WELCOME RAIN DAMPENS CARMEL SPORTS SCHEDULE

Golf and track were the only sporting events to beat Jupe Pluvius during the past week as all baseball, tennis, and softball schedules were postponed. The hardy Carmel divot-diggers sloshed over the Pebble Beach links and earned a tie with the Wildcats from Watsonville. Swinging the sticks for Westover's Wallopers were Jim Hare, Pete Lyon, Bob Rissel, Paul Baxter, and Roderick Dewar. The Padre track team engaged in a three-way meet with Pacific Grove and Monterey last Saturday and surprised the larger schools by upsetting them in the unlimited division. Abalone League softball was called off and a scheduled baseball game with Gonzales had to be set over until May 14th. Harlan Reyburn's championship bound tennis squad drew a vacation Saturday when the puddles were too deep for the low cut shoes.

CARMEL BASEBALL TEAM MEETS P. G. TODAY

Weather permitting the Carmel High School baseball team will journey to Pacific Grove this afternoon for their initial league tilt of the 1948 season. Previously scheduled games with Watsonville, Santa Cruz, King City, and Gonzales were rained out and upset the Padres early season training plans. With Bob Toole on their roster, the Pacific Grove nine will be tough for any CCAL team to handle. Toole is the outstanding player in the league and is sought after by several professional teams. Equally adept at first base or on the pitching mound, Bob also swings a potent willow and has led the league in stolen bases for the last three years.

The Padres have no star of the Toole caliber but will field a well-balanced aggregation of hustling ball players. Lee Winslow or Gene Vandervort will handle the pitching chores, with Dick Sumner and Art Harber in reserve. Lew McCreery will be behind the log and spark the infield. Paul Warner (3b), Walt Frey (2b), and Dick Weer (1b) complete the starting infield, with Bill Daniels, Paul Artellan, and Denicio Narvaez in reserve. The flychasing department will be manned by Pat Dormody, Newt Goodrich, and Neils Reimers, with Buzzy May, Bill Varien, and Les Bracisco as replacements.

Game time at the Pacific Grove park will be 3:30 p.m.

GOLF TOURNAMENT IN FRESNO

The yearly home and home team match between the Sunnyside Country Club in Fresno and the Monterey Peninsula Country Club will be played this Sunday in Fresno. Among those planning to go are Carl Cope, Jack Barneberg, O. W. Irwin, Dan Searle, Dr. James Finley, Jay Harris, Buck Henneken, Warner Keeley, Tom Mathews, John B. Morse, W. S. Talcott, Paul Zaches, Lew Kramer, George Galios, Howard Hawkins, club manager Richard Osborne and Pete Bramhall. The week end in Fresno will begin with a stag party on the 9th. A dinner dance on the 10th, and the match on the 11th will complete the visit.

PADRE TRACKMEN WIN OVER MONTEREY AND P. G.

On a muddy Monterey oval last Saturday afternoon Coach Howard Byrne's small but swift varsity track team upset the big Monterey and Pacific Grove squads in the biggest surprise of the current season. The final results were: Carmel 51, Monterey 48, and Pacific Grove 42 in the varsity division. In the lightweight class, Monterey led with 78, Carmel had 42, and Pacific Grove picked up 20.

The scrappy Padres, who appeared in better physical condition than their rivals, completely dominated the running events, losing only the 220 and 440. Monterey and Pacific Grove picked up the majority of their points in the field events. Paul Warner, Carmel's classy hurdler, was high point man for the meet. Paul won both hurdle races and anchored the winning relay team. A nice come-through toss by Dick Taplin in the discus gave the Padres their only first place in the field events. Dick shipped the disc out a respectable 107 feet and the five points he earned looked mighty on the Padre ledger.

Carmel point-makers: Paul Warner, 1st, 70 and 110 yd. hurdles, and winning relay team; Tom Corley, 4th, 70 yd. hurdles; Bob Barry, 1st, 880 and winning relay team; Lew McCreery, 4th shot put and 880; Dick Garguilo, 1st, 100 and tie first 220, winning relay team; Floyd Adams, 4th, 100; Curt Gorham, 2nd, 70 yd. hurdles; Herman Menezs, 1st, mile; Denicio Narvaez, 4th mile; Dick Taplin, 1st, discus; Dan Holmes, 2nd, discus; Pete Berg, 1st, 110 hurdles and 3rd, 660; Legare McNeill, 4th, 110 yd. hurdles, 1st, discus, and 2nd, 70 yd. hurdles; Bob Osborne, 1st, 660 yd. run; Ed Goodrick, 2nd, 330 yd. run; Gerry Robinson, 1st, 1320 yd. run; Jack Galloway, 2nd, 8 lb. shot put; Aram Tootelian, 3rd, broad jump; Steve Whitaker, 1st, pole vault, 3rd, high jump.

THREE PRACTICE SESSIONS

Candidates for the Pine Cone softball nine will hold workouts at Sunset Field on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday of next week. Softball players who are interested in trying out for the team are welcome to report for these workouts. Practice sessions start at 7 p.m. and finish at 9. With the season scheduled to get underway during the first week in May, players will have to hustle to be in shape to meet the fast competition which invades Sunset Field.

IN VALLEJO TOURNAMENT

Del Monte pro, Bill Kynock and Monterey Peninsula Champion Woody Lamb, will compete in the $1,000 Vallejo Golf Tournament this Friday.

PISTOL CLUB MEETING

The next monthly meeting of the Carmel Pistol Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the offices of Hugh Comstock at 6th and Torres.

"Dream Committee" Fails To Call But Gets Results

What captain of industry said "Never attend to anything for at least a month and by that time it probably won't need attending to?"

He must have been a great friend of Clayton Neill, Mark Raggett, Adolph La Franz, Oscar Balzar and Helen Carter.

These citizens were appointed at the last meeting of the Carmel Business Association on March 11 to pay a call on Postmaster Ernest Bixler and request that a second window be opened to handle packages during the rush hours at the post office.

Several weeks later the Pine Cone reporter, wanting a story, phoned Postmaster Bixler to find out how the committee had fared. Bixler said he hadn't seen a committee and what did they want with him, anyway?

The P. C. relayed to Bixler the information that he was about to be approached on the subject of a second parcel post window. Bixler said fine, he just wished the committee would call so he could explain in what pain and anguish an additional window would involve the whole post office department from Washington, D.C. to Nick, who takes down the flag at sundown.

And there the matter rested.

Yesterday Postmaster Bixler called the Pine Cone and announced, "The post office inspector was here and we made a survey of the building and has worked out a plan how an additional window can be opened for parcel post during the rush hours. It may be a month or six months before we have the window; it has to clear Washington, and you know how Washington is, but we'll have it in time."

"Then you didn't explain to the committee in what pain and anguish. . . ."

"Committee! I have never seen any committee. Wilma, are you sure you didn't just imagine that committee?"

The Pine Cone reporter is begining to wonder, herself.

GOOD GOLFING

Former Mayor Roger D. Lapham of San Francisco and his son, Louis Lapham, spent the week end at the Cypress Point Club. Rainy weather did not prevent them from playing a good deal of golf.

C.M.S. Presents Martial Singer, French Baritone

The Carmel Music Society is preparing to present Martial Singher, baritone, at Sunset School Auditorium Saturday evening, April 17. Singher, a Frenchman, made his American debut at the Metropolitan Opera House in the title role of Debussy's Peleas and Melisande in 1944. Since that time he has met more than 400 engagements on coast-to-coast tours, and been acknowledged by critics to be a vocal artist of the first magnitude and by the public as The Classical Sinatra.

Mr. Singher says that he is greatly impressed with the work of American composers and that their industry has improved popular taste in muisc. "So long as there are musicians free to compose in their own way," he adds, "there will be artists to perform their works and audiences to hear them."

He has recently recorded an album of arias by eight French composers from the 17th century to the modern day, accompanied by the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, with Paul Dreisach conducting. This Columbia Masterwork release is already a collector's item.

MILLION NEEDED FOR MOUNT HOLYOKE

Fund raising activities for the Mount Holyoke Alumnae Association were partly responsible for the visit of Mrs. Margaret Ross to the bay region last week end. Consulting with Mrs. Ellen Small of the Chronicle staff, who is campaign chairman for this area, and Mrs. Miriam Humphry of Oakland, ways and means were discussed for reaching the million dollar goal which the club has set for itself. There is an urgent need for higher faculty salaries, a new gymnasium, and chemistry buildings.

Alice R. Smart

Mrs. Alice R. Smart, a resident of Carmel for over three years, died in Hollywood April 1. During her time in Carmel she assisted her daughter, who was the owner of the Bluebird Tea Room.

Mrs. Smart was born in Maine in 1874 and lived there for 40 years, coming to California 12 years ago, after the death of her husband. During the last two years she made her home with her sister in Hollywood.

She is survived by a daughter, Elizabeth Smith, of Hollywood, a sister, Mrs. Viola Gove, and two brothers: Ralph Redman of Augusta, Maine, and A. C. Redman, of Safety Harbor, Florida.

Eleanor Smith

Elinor Shane Smith, a graduate of Stanford University and a teacher of nature work in Carmel schools for 17 years, died April 7. She was the author of two books about California, one of which was Pohono and Other Legends of Yosemite.

During recent years she lived with her brother, J. Gilbert Smith, in Los Altos.

She leaves another brother, Harlan C. Smith of Santa Cruz, and a nephew, G. Forrest Smith, of Atherton.

Services will be held at 2:30 this afternoon in the chapel of Alta Mesa Cemetery, Palo Alto. Arrangements are being handled by the Wessendorf Mortuary in Santa Cruz.

KIPLING EVENING

A Kipling evening will be held by Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte's current literature group next Tuesday evening, April 13, when Clayton Dunning Somers will give another example of his extraordinary talents. Mr. Somers took the leading role in The Time of Your Life by William Saroyan, which was played at the Golden Bough Playhouse, and later he appeared in several other productions, acting as manager when Dan Totheroh presented his Distant Drums in the Forest Theatre. Last fall Mr. Somers read Edna St. Vicent Millay's sonnets to this Adult School group and gave outstanding pleasure to the members.

Visitors are welcome to attend in Room 11 of Sunset School at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

Here Today Opens At Golden Bough Monday Evening

The opening of George Oppenheim's hilarious Here Today will take place at Golden Bough Playhouse this Monday night, April 12 at 8:30 and the Peninsula's first-nighters will be there in force, if advance reservations are any indictation.

The comedy, now performed for the first time on the West Coast, will be directed by Lloyd Weer, long known locally as an accomplished actor. It was during the war-time USO activity that Weer's ability in direction became evident, and Here Today offers him full scope both as director and player. The cast also includes Ruth Marion McElroy, Larry Rose, Gerald Henderson, Charlotte Bohn Marx, William Buckley, Victoria Buckley (in the role made famous by Ruth Gordon on Broadway) and Catherine Winslow.

The play bears the provocative sub-title, A Comedy of (Bad) Manners. The bad manners are exhibited for the most part by Victoria Buckley and Lloyd Weer in their roles of collaborating playwrights who take it upon themselves to help their novelist friend Philip Graves, William Buckley, to win his lady love. A first step in this praiseworthy undertaking is to break up the existing engagement of the latter with a stuffy Boston insurance executive, a maneuver which they execute with such precision and complete success that when the time comes—which it does almost immediately—to back up and undo their work the complications are almost too great to bear. Almost, but not quite, for there is a loop-hole and through it the collaborators wriggle with more than their usual abandon and impudence.

Mr. Oppenheim's comedy is a gleeful, zestful piece, carrying no message whatever—except, of course, the message of cheerfulness and fun and healthy diversion.

$150,000 Bond Election Before Sanitary Board

Carmel Sanitary District Board looked into the grizzly face of a $150,000 bond election Monday night when it approved plans for increasing the capacity of the reduction works and decided "to lay the plans before the public as soon as possible."

The plans, presented by Clyde C. Kennedy, district engineer, consist of an extension of the disposal plant and a suggested ocean outfall.

Included in Kennedy's report were plans for a new trunk line to the Hatton Fields area, but the board decided to hold them in abeyance until the areas affected become a part of the sanitary district.

Should the bonds pass there would be an increase of 15 to 20 cents on the tax rate, W. H. Satchell, secertary of the board, estimates. He adds that there are no bonds out at present and that the present tax rate, 14 cents, is very low in comparison to the sanitary tax burden of comparable communities.

The work will have to be done within the next two years at the latest, he adds, and is necessitated by the increase of population within the district.

Harold Brewster

The Reverend Harold Sidney Brewster, rector of St. James' Episcopal Church in San Francisco until September of last year, died on Tuesday, April 6. He and Mrs. Brewster have had a home in Carmel at San Carlos and First streets since 1927, and have resided here permanently during the six months since his retirement from the San Francisco rectorship.

Mr. Brewster was born in Massachusetts in 1879, and was a graduate of Amherst College and the Cambridge Theological Seminary. He was the author of two books, The Simple Gospel, and The Madness of War.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marie Brewster of Carmel; two daughters, Miss Gertrude Brewster of Carmel and Mrs. A. C. Chard of East Harpswell, Maine; a son, George C. Brewster of St. Paul, Minn; four sisters, the Misses Anna G., Mary K., and Carol W. Brewster, and Mrs. Carl Allured of Northhampton, Mass.; four grandchildren, David and Margaret Brewster of St. Paul, Minn., and Carol and James Chard of East Harpswell, Maine; and a nephew, Jonathan Allured of Northamton, Mass.

Services, presided over by Right Reverend Carl Morgan Block, Bishop of the California Episcopal Diocese, were held Thursday at All Saints' Church in Carmel. Right Reverend L. C. Sanford, retired Bishop of San Joaquin, participated.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by the Paul Mortuary.

Egg Sale Nets $1006 For Boys' Club; Winners Announced

The Egg Sale, conducted during the last two weeks for the benefit of the Carmel Boys' Club building fund, has brought in $1006.50 to date, according to Jim Cooke, chairman of the sale; and the fourteen enterprising boys who won a trip to San Francisco to see a double header baseball game at Seal's Stadium were announced by Cooke yesterday. Seven of the boys won their trip by selling the most eggs in the sale, and the other seven won theirs by bringing in the most money.

Top man was Richard Mulholland, whose efforts netted the Boys' Club $110. The other winners are: Lee Winslow, Bobby Bell, Kurt von Meier, Brent Millen, Myron Branson, Bob Updike, Lee Lauganour, Bill Daniels, Henry Overin, Johnny De Amaral, Donald Canham, Henry Myers and Stuart Emery.

They will make the trip on April 18. Mayor Fred Godwin has reserved 18 seats on the first base line at Seals Stadium, the other four seats being filled by Godwin, Fred Myler, Coach George Mosolf and Clayton Neill, who are furnishing transportation for the trip.

The $1006.50 brought in so far, says Cooke, will be increased by the payment of several as yet unredeemed pledges, but the money is still far short of the building fund's needs.

Cooke plans a meeting soon to lay plans for additional methods of raising the money.

Police Officer Woford Dufur, president of the directors of the Boys' Club, wishes the Pine Cone to express thanks to all who aided in the sale, and especially to Mayor Godwin for donating the trip to San Francisco, and to Fred Godwin's hens for coming across so beautifull with the raw material of the sale.

BEN DEW WINS CONTEST

At a meeting Tuesday night at the Mission Ranch, members of the Carmel, Monterey and Salinas Lions Clubs picked Ben Dew, Monterey Union High School student, to represent the Peninsula at a regional student speakers' contest to be held in Santa Cruz, April 15.

The subject of Dew's talk was Do Frontiers of Opporunity Exist Today for American Youth? Runner-up was Bill Gordon of Salinas, who talked on the same subject.

Judges were former Senator E. H. Tickle, Tal Josselyn and Malcolm Foster. Mark Raggett, president of the Carmel Lions Club, presided.

Keith Evan's moving out of the city limits made it impossible for him to run for re-election and created the necessity of electing a new man to the council. There are eight men from which to make selection. They are eight good citizens of excellent reputation, whose morals, manners and intentions, so far as we know, are beyond reproach. Some of them are our personal and very good friends, but all eight of them are not counsular material, which is no reflection upon their capacities in other fields of endeavor. Some of the cleverest people in this community would be magnificent failures as councilmen.

We've selected Andy Martin as the new man most likely to succeed as a councilman, because we believe he has executive ability, a broad, good-natured tolerance for the foibles of human nature, and a wealth of patience. The latter is a great asset to anyone who has to deal with a population possing the high irritability quotient that is Carmel's. "Andy" was a State Highway patrolman for years before his retirement, inspite of which, he is universally liked. Could Benjamin Franklin equal that? He is so generally liked that he does not have to enlist the patronage of any one faction or group but can take a chance on going before the people for election, alone, unsponsored by organization or clique. If he is elected he will owe no favors.

Among his friends who have come forward, unsolicited, to support "Andy" is Fred Bechdolt.

Bechdolt, whose political opinion is seasoned by many years of living in Carmel, of himself serving in public office, and of an understanding of people that is the gift of successful writers, sent us yesterday the following note:

"I know this village and I love it. For I have lived here more than forty years. I believe that its future, as a place for simple, quiet living, can be made reasonably safe or runined by the city council during the next two or three years.

"That is why I am supporting Andy Martin's candidacy.

"The Monterey Peninsula is growing rapidly. Tronsportation methods are changing. Transient visitors are increasing—and this increase is going to multiply within months. Carmel was originally planned for horse and buggy conditions. In order to keep this village fit to live in, the members of the city council must solve some knotty traffic problems right away. We can't follow the pattern of other towns. The job will demand close and long familiarity with local needs and conditions; an absolutely unselfish approach, unhampered by any special group interest; and experience.

"It so happens that Andy Martin, through his years of service on the State Highway Patrol is eminently qualified—not only to deal with handling traffic but with routing it.

"This village is so fortunate as to have an excellent police department. In an executive position, as a law enforcement officer, Mr. Martin made a distinguished record. You may be sure that he will consistently back the policy which has kept Carmel infinitely cleaner than any of the nearby towns.

"I say these things because I have known Andy Martin for years. By way of verifying my statements I refer you to any newspaper man in the county. And—in absolute good will to all hands—I take the liberty of reminding the voters again that the councilmen of these next few years can make or wreck the future of our village."

L.W.V. To Conduct Registration Booth At Bank Of Carmel

Registration booth for convenience of voters will be maintained next week, Monday through Saturday, from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at the Bank of Carmel by the League of Women Voters. Three special registrars have been appointed by County Clerk Emmet McMenamin to carry out, by turns, this service to voters: Mrs. Philip Schneeberger, Mrs. Richard Lofton, and Mrs. Everett Smith.

In addition there will be information clerks to answer questions of persons uncertain as to their eligibility as citizens. Those who will man the information desk at some time during the week are Mrs. Ritter Holman, Mrs. Kathryn Lansdowne, Mrs. Paul Low, Mrs. Rodney Mason, Miss Ruth Radcliff, and Mrs. Blanchard Steeves.

A similar service will be offered in Monterey the following week, Monday and Tuesday, April 19 and 20, at the First National Bank on Alvarado street, with Mrs. Smith in charge, assisted by Mrs. David Gill and Mrs. Nelson Miles Leoni. Registration for the June State primary election closes April 22.

Dolores St. School Naming Contest Before Board

A Dolores Street School naming contest will be proposed to the school board at its regular meeting next Tuesday by Lloyd Miller, commercial subjects teacher at the high school and faculty advisor to the staff of El Padre, high school newspaper.

Several informal meetings in the past month have paved the way for official adoption of the plans for Dolores Street School next Tuesday. Construction will begin immediately, but hope for completion of the new school before fall session starts is doubtful, Superintendent Stuart Mitchell told the Pine Cone this week.

"Judging by the way work is progressing at the high school, we must be prepared for delays in getting materials," he said. "We need not be concerned greatly over delay in completing the building since there will be ample room for the eighth grade at the high school next fall. The largest high school graduating class in Carmel history, 75, moves out this June.

"We plan to keep the eighth grade at the high school for the entire term, but as soon as the Dolores Street School is finished, we can move the 1st four elementary classes from Sunset. It can be done during the term over a week end."

New Scout Cub Pack Organized

Scout Commissioner Bill Ellis announces the organization of a new Cub Scout Pack, the second in Carmel, under the sponsorship of the Church of the Wayfarer. The pack committee members are Dale Leidig, Murl Ogden and George Cain. The Pack will be headed by Mr. James Pruitt as Cubmaster, and the first den mother will be Mrs. Arlene Taplin. Mr. Durbin Sayers will represent the church on the local District Committee of the Boy Scouts of America. Boys of ages 9 to 12, even though in no way connected with the church, are invited to join. They may contact Naomi Fletcher at the Church of the Wayfarer any afternoon.

Last Friday evening Cub Scout Pack #3, sponsored by the Carmel Lions Club, held their monthly Pack meeting in the Sunset School Cafeteria. The program included games, singing, presentation of two achievement awards and to climax the affair, three exhibition boxing matches by Mrs. Nielsen's den. These demonstrations of the art of self defense kept everyone excited.

It's NO. 1 on the "It" Parade

IT'S much the same way with cars as with people.

Some "have it" — some don't.

Some you go for, all out — without quite being able to lay a finger on why. And those — well, they usually become your firmest friends.

What is it that makes so many good folks say this trim honey's "got it"? Good looks? One has to admit it's nice to ride in a car that is unmistakably itself and not just a slightly modified version of something else.

Size, weight? Well, the polls tell us it's a pretty important factor since, if you like an automobile that does things, there just is no substitute for brawn and solid substance.

Power? Naturally. You can't sit long behind this big Fireball straight-eight without falling for it plenty hard.

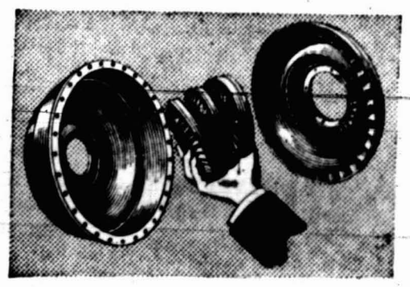
Handling? Ride? Room? They all have their avid fans among Buick owners. Especially now with a completely new kind of engine mounting ironing out vibration build-up as never before, and in this Convertible model, with automatic top, door-window and front-seat adjustment.

Is it the wonderful new Dynaflow Drive* that's causing so much talk?

In ROADMASTER models that is certainly a big factor. You'll never know how silky smooth a drive can be — what fluent new ease there is to all your going — till you drive the car where liquid replaces both the clutch and first, second and high gears.

But as nearly as we can find out — and we talk to a lot of people — it isn't any one thing that puts Buick at the top of the "it" parade. It's the over-all richness of this honey in all the things you've dreamed of finding wrapped in an automobile.

Ask any friend who drives a Buick — then see your dealer and get a firm order in, with or without a car to trade.



WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

Susan Johnston said that she had lots of fun staying with her mother in Palo Alto.

Renee Bedau went to Morro Bay with her parents.

Mike Ricketson spent a day in the snow at Chews Ridge.

Barbara Reyburn had an Easter visit in Mt. View with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Awalt.

Beverly Bolton didn't have to leave home to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rulf of San Francisco, because they came to Carmel.

Mary Alice Graves spent part of her vacation with her father in Berkeley.

Donn Carley's mother, sister Carolyn and brother Jack came down from San Francisco to be with him.

Pat Chedester and Sylvia Heinselman had a "super" vacation on Sylvia's grandfather's farm near Calistoga.

Lynn and Joe Campbell, former Sunset School students, came back to Carmel for their vacation. Their home is in Menlo Park.

Barbara Keller didn't leave Carmel, but she had a good time riding horseback.

John Stewart just returned from a three-weeks' trip across the United States. He went with his parents to the southern States.

Jim Howe worked all vacation except Wednesday. Why didn't he work on Wednesday? Because it rained!

Musical Arts Society Sponsors Concert By Masonic Choir

The Carmel Musical Arts Society will present the Monterey Peninsula Masonic Choir in a concert at the Carmel High School Auditorium, Sunday, April 18.

The Choir was founded several years ago under the sponsorship of the three Masonic Lodges of the Peninsula for the purpose of singing the musical settings written for Third Degree Work within the Masonic Lodges.

The repertoire of the organization grew considerably beyond the requirements of Degree Work and, from time to time, the organization has made public appearances in concert. Its ranks have been opened to a limited number of singers who are not Masons for the purpose of augmenting the Choir in public appearances.

Frank P. Binnie has been Director of the Choir since its inception and has trained the group to sing a repertoire of considerable variety and scope.

Up to a short time ago, this Choir was the only organization of its kind singing within the Grand Lodge Jurisdiction of California and its success has been due in great part to the wholehearted support of the Masonic Lodges of the Monterey Peninsula.

The program to be offered will include numbers by Bach, Handel and Purcell, as well as a group of negro spirituals and some choral works by present day composers.

The Time Has Come . .

By KIPPY STUART

I passed your house the other day, and shame on you! St . . st . . . St . . . what a pitiful sight your geraniums are! Tall, leggy, dry stems with bare stalks and drooping blooms. If you will be kind to those geraniums, they will be kind to you.

Geraniums should be tended frequently and should be kept shaped into low-lying, bushy plants. When one stalk starts up, clip it off. The shape is the thing. Clip off all finished blooms. There is a small garden on Dolores Street at the home of Mrs. Helen Kreps that is a joy to look upon. Mrs. Kreps majors in geraniums and pelargoniums of many varieties and I have never seen such a well organized garden. Mrs. Kreps says that the secret of her geraniums is that she leaves them alone, but with a weather eye upon them all the time. Mrs. Kreps feeds her potted plants Spoon-it, which is a plant stimulant that really belongs to Carmel. Mr. Plant-Smith, once a Carmel resident, invented Spoon-it and now this chemical is known to gardeners the country over.

It is a good time to re-pot geraniums and pelargoniums. Mix a good batch of earth; one part peet moss, one part good garden loam, and one part river-run sand. (Never beach sand!) Water sparsely; not more than once a week at first, and later when the plant re-establishes itself, not more than once every two weeks. Don't let water remain in the saucer or in the jardinier.

Delphiniums

By this time your delphiniums should be well established. My delphiniums are behaving in an extraordinary manner. Most of the plants are about seven inches high, but one delphinium seems to think it is summer time. This one plant has soared to a height of four feet; the center stalk is about to burst into heavenly-blue color, and the side branches are well established. The odd thing about this plant is that it is a baby. I started it from seed last August. The mature plants that have been in my garden for several years seem to be the slowest to show height. But give them all time and they will reward us for many months to come.

You can't plant delphiniums and go away and leave them. There are many trials this plant must endure before maturity. Watch for a black fungus where the stalk emerges from the ground; watch for aphides, thrips and red spider. Later in the summer, mildew sets in. All of these pests can be controlled if you get to the plant with the proper spray at the proper time. I take no chances; I spray before danger manifests itself. Last year, for the first time in my life I had excellent success with dephiniums.

Try this massed effect for one [illegible] in your garden. Against a background of massed evegreen, plant a group of tall gladiolis; in front of them, place Pacific Hybred delphiniums, and in front of them all, put in lots of baby gladiolis. You can still plant gladiolis bulbs and you can get from your nursery deplhinium plants in cans or pots. With this arrangement you will have blooms over a long period and each of these plants give superb cut flowers.

Shasta Power

It is not being wasted now

It need never be wasted

You, as a user of electric power and as a taxpayer, have an important stake in the Shasta power question. In this message we outline what's behind the discussion—and offer the facts for all to read.

Additional Shasta Power Will Help. We have been and are doing all we can to correct the power shortage. Power from every possible source, in this drought year, must be distributed to northern and central California. Shasta is expected to provide about 75,000 additional kilowatts April 15, when a new generator comes into service. There'll be a like amount later on. Our total demands run about 2,000,000 kilowatts. Shasta will help—every bit of power counts—but Shasta power alone won't solve the problem.

Shasta Power Now Being Used. No Shasta power is going to waste now. It's being fed onto our lines and is being used along with power from about 75 other sources. It has been used since June 26, 1944, under a contract between P. G. and E. and the Bureau of Reclamation—a Federal government agency.

What's the Problem? Actually, there shouldn't be any problem . . . but there is. The Bureau doesn't want to extend the contract to cover the new Shasta power, even for the balance of this year. Instead, the Bureau has reluctantly agreed to put the additional power on our lines during the emergency on a day to day basis. We have agreed to take it that way—this assures no waste of Shasta Power during the emergency—but leaves the long-range disposition of the power unsettled.

Why Is There a Contract Dispute? It started back in 1941. When Shasta construction began we offered to supply a market for Shasta power and offered to coordinate our operations with those of the Bureau at Shasta and Keswick (another unit of the Central Valley Project). At that time the Bureau demanded that we "convey" Shasta power over our lines to enable them to sell it to various public agencies. It is not physically possible to do this, but in any event we couldn't agree to such a demand. These agencies were and are our customers and are being served under rates established or approved by the California Public Utilities Commission. Such a demand, were it carried out, would amount to virtual confiscation of a good part of our business. An agreement on our part would be just as foolish as for a milk company to agree to furnish their trucks and delivery men to someone else—who would begin delivering their own milk to the milk company's customers.

Wartime Contract Signed in 1943. Congress finally took a hand. In 1942 the Senate Appropriations Committee recommended that the Secretary of the Interior and P. G. and E. "immediately enter into a contract, for the duration of the war and a reasonable time thereafter".

The Bureau then agreed to a contract—without the "conveyance" clause. That contract was signed in 1943 and is still in force. It will be until the end of this year.

Under that contract the United States has collected from us more than 11 million dollars for Shasta power. But the contract is running out—a permanent contract should take its place.

Bureau Won't Agree. The Bureau has gone back to its original demand, first laid down in 1941. P. G. and E., they insist, must "convey" power for them for delivery to a long list of federal, state and local agencies, now P. G. and E. customers.

Practically all the other points in a new contract are agreeable to both parties. But with this one we disagree.

Bureau's Demand Puts Burden on Public. Last year the customers which the Bureau could take from us used more than a billion kilowatt hours of power. That's about one-eighth of our total power demand. Here's what that means to you:

Under the direction of the Public Utilities Commission, our low rates have been carefully adjusted to cover costs of a complex system of generating and distributing power . . . to all the people in our area. Should special privileges—at the expense of the taxpayers—be granted to those who use one-eighth of our power, the others who use the seven-eighths would naturally have to make up the difference. We don't want the public to be thus penalized.

How to Solve the Long-Range Problem Since Shasta began to produce we've been buying power and paying for it. Our point is this: all northern and central California should share in Shasta power—not a few selected agencies or customers. It can be made available to the homes, farms and factories in the area. Fair terms have been offered by the P. G. and E. If there is a dispute as to price, we will submit it to the California Public Utilities Commission or to the Federal Power Commission and abide by the decision, although in 1943 Harold L. Ickes, then Secretary of the Interior, said we had agreed to pay a "fair and equitable price for the power".

Transmission Lines Available. P. G. and E. transmission lines are ready at our Shasta substation to take the output of the generators to come into service this month and in July. Before another month passes we will have still another transmission line south from Shasta substation. With that line in operation all the power to be produced at Shasta and Keswick Dams can be distributed over northern and central California.

All the government need do is build its transmission lines to Shasta substation—25 miles. It has the money to do that, appropriated by Congress last year. The Bureau of Reclamation and the Federal taxpayer, whose money it spends, need do no more.

We have the service organization, the substations and all the necessary lines to get the power to the public.

League Of Women Voters Hear Talks By Edgar Bissanz And Zenas L. Potter

Following a short business meeting of the League of Women Voters last Friday afternoon in Sunset School Cafeteria, Mrs. Edmond Sullivan, the president, presented Mrs. Paul Low to conduct the afternoon's program of information on problems of atomic warfare. Mrs. Low is League co-chairman with Mrs. Ferdinand Haasis on international relations, who together conducted two months of intensive study by League members on international trade agreements, in February, and the atomic bomb, during March.

Mrs. Low announced the two programs of world organization for peace to be discussed, the United World Federalists and Federal Union, Inc. "We are not presenting these two as rivals," she said, "but as two possible courses of action," which Americans may well study and consider. She introduced Mr. Zenas L. Potter, Peninsula chairman of Atomic Energy Information Week, and Mr. Edgar Bissanz of San Francisco, representing Federal Union.

In the absence of the announced speaker, Mr. Allan Cranston, Mr. Potter outlined the information on atomic energy, its possibilities and its dangers, given earlier in the week by competent speakers. He urged the absolute necessity of early action in organizing the whole world for control of production of the materials for atomic energy, and the need for thinking in new terms in order to achieve this. He insisted that we must not be discouraged by hindrances to initiating international control, and he pointed out the fact that there is no solution in dividing the world into two antagonistic groups. We must find policies that will win Russia. A world organization must be set up on the basis of Christianity, of world brotherhood.

Mr. Bissanz pointed out that so long as the world consists of a lot of sovereign nations, loosely organized or not organized, there will be war. Government has always brought peace wherever it has been tried, in small or large areas. At the present time the international level is the only one not so organized and governed — and there is war. A world government would be the solution, would bring peace. This does not mean ruling over the internal affairs of a nation; it means, directing its international relations, to avoid the causes of war.

A nuclear union could be formed of those countries ready and willing to act together. They could be a nucleus with which other countries could unite as soon as they are ready and observe the effectiveness of the initial union. The United States and other democratic countries could form a strong core for world organization, a core loaded for freedom. A league of sovereign nations is doomed at the outset to failure, Mr. Bissanz said. A true union would create a preponderance of power devoted to freedom and to preserving peace. —L.L.T.

Mrs. G. R. Parker On Wrecked City Of S. F.

Back in Carmel, after a hazardous trip East, is Mrs. Gordon Ridgeley Parker, who left for Philadelphia in February to attend the funeral services of her mother. En route, Mrs. Parker barely escaped injury when her train, the City of San Francisco, was wrecked 36 miles from North Platte, Nebraska, shortly after midnight. The train was doing 90 miles an hour over the prairie when a wheel broke on the rear section and all cars were overturned except the club car, in which, fortunately, Mrs. Parker happened to be. Mrs. Parker, with good Red Cross training behind her, helped take care of the injured, wrapping them in blankets, and getting them into the dining car which had been turned into a surgery. The passengers were finally taken to North Platte where Mrs. Parker was able to catch a plane for Chicago, and to arrive in Sewickley just in time for the funeral services of her mother.

Motoring back from the East with Mrs. Parker were her aunt Miss Sarah M. Bennett of Sewickley, and her nephew, James Porter Edson. They had a most pleasant trip across country. Miss Bennett and Mrs. Edson are staying at the Pine Inn.

Carmel Story . . .

BY DAISY BOSTICK

There is much talk these days about how important it is that we re-dedicate ourselves to the principles underlying our democracy. Where better can we start than by examining the government of our own little community and tracing the changes that have taken place since all authority was placed in the hands of the people represented by their duly elected officers? This happened thirty-two years ago. Through all the years since then I have been proud of the record of those who have administered the affairs of the village. Not one has ever been accused of graft or anything else that could reflect on his integrity in his administrative duties. Differences, yes! Arguments bitter and heated! But when the issue was decided everyone settled down in friendly spirit.

So we are preparing a series of articles dealing with our City Council to be followed by a special report on each of our Commissioners and what they have been and still are accomplishing.

CARMEL CITY COUNCIL

CHAPTER I

In the early years of this century, Frank Powers and J. F. Devendorf acquired the land which is now Carmel from the estate of Honore Escolle, from John Martin, former owner of the acreage surrounding the Mission, and from the Del Monte Properties Company, then called the Pacific Improvement Company. The new owners cleared the lots of unwanted rubbish, reforested vacant spots and did everything they could to preserve the natural beauties of the place. They held out special inducements to settlers to come here and build, with particular encouragement to artists and writers. They managed and promoted ably and with vision.

By 1916 the village had grown in numbers sufficiently to incorporate as a City of the Sixth Class. With the encouragement of Powers and Devendorf, then known as the Carmel Realty Company, a group of fifty prominent citizens took the first step by giving notice in August, 1916 to the Board of Supervisors of intention to incorporate and it was voted upon favorably the following October. We had now come of age.

The names of the signers of the notice of intention to incorporate were a veritable Who's Who of those living in Carmel at that time. Prominent among them were the Leidig, Goold, Schwenninger and Overstreet families, Perry Newberry, Laura Maxwell, De Neale Morgan, C. J. Arne, Stella Vincent, Jane Prentiss, Albert Comstock.

The government then became vested in a group of five officers called the Board of Trustees to serve without pay. They chose the President from their own number. He was the Presiding Officer and head of the finance department and he appointed the other members to various commissions which were then substantially the same as now. The commission came under the headings of Streets, Sidewalks and Parks, Fire and Police, Light and Water, Health and Safety.

The first Board of Trustees consisted of Alfred Fraser, Judge Thomas Taylor, George Beardsley, Mrs. Eva K. De Sabla and D. W. Johnson. Fraser was chosen for president. All other city officers were to serve with pay and they were elected by a direct vote of the people. That first Board was pretty canny about the town's finances and the salaries they allowed were not so large as to make the financial part of it a factor in encouraging citizens to run for office. The Clerk of the Board received the handsome stipend of $25 a month, the Treasurer $5, the City Attorney $20 and the Chief of Police, commonly called the Marshal, was paid $90.

The first Clerk of the Board was Jess Nichols. He was followed by Grace Wickham, then came

FIELD SONG

I often hear it afternoons
A field or so away
Like disembodied whistletune—
Nor yet for certain say
Where cheerful lips have formed it,
Or whether in my mind
It is a song a friend forgot
And I can never find.

REMEMBERING

What is remembering and the silent barque
Which creeps upon the lazy, sleeping will?
What are the images, not often still,
That flit and flutter— birds from out the ark
Of memory, vermilion plumed or dark?
Knowing a holiness hate cannot kill,
We keep a love the future must fulfill
And hold a lighted flame and fan its spark.

Is this remembering, O love of mine—
That other names are flotsam on the ocean
Which flows between your haven and my sea
While yours is never scattered on the brine?
And I shall always long for your devotion
For our unfinished vision lives with me.

PRIMAL

The stars are from the time of the beginning,
Chained to their curves, they roar along
The void; and nothing to stop their spinning
But the cold, clean edge of song.

—RUTH FORBES SHERRY.

AGAINST THE THRUST OF STORM

The world may rage around us like the wind
Around a cypress on a barren crest,
But here our sheaves of faith are safely binned,
And here each burdened heart may come to rest.

The world may rage around us but we know
Our hearth of love is intimate and warm.
However swift the tides of anguish flow,
We are secure against the thrust of storm.

Have You Read . . . ?

BY GLENN CLAIRMONTE

Ides of March, by Thornton Wilder, Harper & Brothers, 1948.

This is a new opportunity for Thornton Wilder to express his philosophy in his humorous fashion and to betray his wisdom on the subject of human nature, but it purports to be a collection of documents which depict social life in Rome during the last months of Caesar's life. The selection of this episode as the peg on which to hang a rare literary tapestry is in line with Wilder's usual perspicacity. However, even without the historical reference this book would remain an entertaining, thought-provoking and heart-satisfying experience for readers in many degrees of appreciation.

For lovers of gossip there is the tantalizing promise of more scandal to be unfolded, and characterization of a variety of personae is done with peculiar masterliness. The effects of interplay of men and women of differing ages and ambitions, the self-seeking and the detached, make a drama in which the reader is forced to participate, and of course this means that it is good fiction.

There is, moreover, a depth of honesty beyond the average skill of discovery, and many lines cause the reader to tear off layers of his own self-deception not previously suspected. This baring of human attributes arouses the readers' satisfaction more profoundly than most writers realize: Wilder's respect for his reader's intelligence and moral courage is the reason that his books, always directed to his own highest understanding, become best-sellers. The masses have more discernment—and deeper hunger for the truth of themselves—than the shrewd know. It requires a writer above the necessity for shrewdness to reveal his power, hammered to precision, and thus to fulfill the needs of his readers.

It is gratifying to hold a book which inspires confidence in the writer's capableness—you don't have to be ready to wince at a break in the rhythm or a fault in the reasoning. But for an admirer of beautiful writing there is special joy in finding sound ideas described not only appropriately but exquisitely, as in this passage:

"You talk of the past.

"I do not let my thoughts dwell on it for long. All of it, all of it, seems of a beauty that I shall not see again. Those presences, how can I think of Them? At the memory of one whisper, one pair of eyes, the pen falls from my hand, the interview in which I am engaged turns to stone. Rome and her business become a clerk's task, arid and tedious, with which I fill my days until death relieves me of it. Am I peculiar in this? I do not know. Can other men weave past joy into their thoughts in the present and their plans for the future? Perhaps only the poets can; they alone use all of themselves in every moment of their work."

From this early part of the book the character of Caesar is quietly developed to the breadth of his recognition that there is no freedom but in responsibility. His emphasis on the necessity for perpetual growth portrays that mysterious cause for the elevation of certain men:

"The history of nations shows how deeply rooted is our propensity to impute a more than human condition to those remarkable for gifts or to those merely situated in conspicuous position . . . . All this has been fruitful; it expands the imagination of the growing boy and it furnishes sanctions for good manners and public institutions. It must be outgrown, however—outgrown and discarded. Every man that has ever lived has been but a man and his achievements should be viewed as extensions of the human state, not interruptions of it."

The generosity is part of the portrait of greatness.

Of course the wisdom in this book Wilder learned somewhere, even perhaps partly from his studies of Roman times. He has assimilated it and has used the discrimination of an artist in presenting it under the guise of a tale of love and intrigue. Anyone reading this book can be amused at Caesar harassed by a frivolous wife, or at the voluptuous candor of Cleopatra. But he will also become a better lover—a better friend—a better householder—and perhaps can never again attempt to deceive a friend, so skillfully are the transparencies of fraud here shown.

Security In C. S. Doctrine Says Archibald Carey

To a world swept by suggestions of uncertainty and insecurity, Christian Science brings proofs of the stabilizing truth that God's laws are logical, unavoidable, and demonstrable, declared Archibald Carey, C.S.B., in a public lecture here Tuesday evening.

In daily living, in business, government, and the maintenance of health, mankind needs most of all the divine facts of true being, Mr. Carey told a large and responsive audience. A member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, he spoke in the Church edifice, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist.

"What are the laws of God that can be utilized in healing and in solving other human problems?" Mr. Carey asked. "Perhaps first of all we should be sure that we have a clear concept of what God is. Is God a cruel potentate who loves and hates, and whose laws may either help or harm? Is God an unintelligent automatic reaction which may be beneficent or destructive, with a system of laws that are sometimes good and sometimes harmful? Is God a blind force, sometimes called nature, which makes mistakes and causes suffering and disease? Does God share the government of the universe with a powerful evil or devil who can interfere with or prevent the operation of God's laws?

"Christian Science does not so define God; but on the other hand it does not merely offer one more definition of God to add to the confusion and conflict of the many concepts of Deity that are prevalent. Because it is Science, Christian Science is concerned with ultimate facts that are logical and unavoidable and with the laws that correlate these facts.

"One thing that must necessarily be true is that laws cannot be in conflict with each other if these laws are to continue to operate without change.

"As the principle of mathemtics governs and protects its laws, so there must be one great Principle governing and harmonizing, and therefore maintaining, all the laws of the spiritual universe. Only thus could we have laws which would continue to operate without interference so that we are able to rely on their unchanging operation. If there were no such laws, there would be no science of any kind. If there are dependable laws, there must be one supreme Principle governing all laws and maintaining their existence."

Cooper Club Plans Annual Meeting At Pacific Grove

The Cooper Orinithological Club will hold its annual meeting at Pacific Grove, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 7 to 9, according to announcement received this week from Frank A. Pitelka of the Mueseum of Vertebrate Zoology, University of California.

Pitelka, chairman of the local committee at Berkeley, has sent out the "call for papers", a request for reports from the members who have new material on ornithological subjects. Since many distinguished scientists, educators and naturalists are numbered in the membership, the annual meeting serves as a roundup and exchange of individual research. The Museum of Vertebrate Zoology staff at Berkeley and the Ornithological department of the Los Angeles City Museum contributes largely to the program, though there are also papers presented by scientists and students of other institutions, and by serious amateurs.

In addition to Pitelka, the local committee in Berkeley consists of Alden H. Miller and Robert W. Storer. The Monterey Peninsula committee is made up of Jean M. Linsdale, Hastings Reservation, Ferdinand S. Ruth, Monterey Peninsula College, and Laidlaw Williams.

I. T. U. CONVENTION HERE

The Monterey Peninsula Chapel of the International Typographical Union will be hosts to delegates of the northern part of the state at the California convention of the I.T.U. this week end in Monterey.

Business meetings will be held at convention headquarters, the San Carlos Hotel. Entertainment will consist of a theatre party for the Troopers' performance of Moonshiner's Daughter at the First Theatre, and buffet supper with entertainment afterwards; a sight seeing tour of the Peninsula will be included.

Local committee, appointed by Herman A. Woodward, includes Mr. Arthur Rotter, Mr. Ernie Winters. and Mr. Alvin Clickard.

Dr. Olive Swezy Talks On Effects Of Atomic Radiation

What science has to suggest as the probable effects on the human race of atomic radiation resulting from experiment in and development of atomic energy was explained and discussed for the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer by Dr. Olive Swezy, biologist, on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Swezy outlines the action of the law of heredity which for 450 million years has carried out a precise pattern in the individuals of any given species without deviation. An example — man has walked upright without change for a million years.

"The biological effect of the development of atomic energy, the health hazard," said Miss Swezy, "is the most important question before the American people today." The mechanism of heredity goes back to the genes in the germ cells, and when the genes are damaged or destroyed, the law of heredity is broken. However—and this is one of the greatest dangers—the effects seldom show in the first generation after the injury, and by the second generation, if many persons have been subjected to atomic radiation, the effect has become so wide-spread at to be almost if not entirely impossible to eleminate; moreover, the effects on the human race will hardly begin to show for another seventy-five years.

The Women's Auxiliary met for lunch at 12:30, with a short business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Carmalita Benson, at 1:30. An amendment to the consitution making officers' terms two years proposed. Nominating Committee appointed includes Mrs. William Hamilton, Mrs. Howard Timbers, and Mrs. Walter Kreisler.

CANDIDATES' MEETING

Carmel voters are invited to meet the ten candidates for city council at an informal meeting this afternoon at 3:30 in Sunset School Cafeteria. The gathering, sponsored by the League of Women Voters, will be conducted by Mrs. H. B. Gantt, who was active in Group One study section this past winter. Aspirants for the post of City Councilmen will have the opportunity to give their views on community interests and policies. There are three posts in the council to be filled at next Tuesday's election.

Ellen Huntington

Services were held Wednesday at the T. A. Dorney Funeral Home for Ellen Harney Huntington, a resident of Carmel for 27 years. Mrs. Huntington was born in Illinois, and since coming to Carmel has divided her time between her residence at San Antonio and Santa Lucia, and her country home at Lake Elsinore, near Riverside.

She leaves a daughter, Marigold Gulick, of Carmel.

Requiem mass was held at the Carmel Mission Wednesday evening, and interment will be in the Riverside Catholic Cemetery.

Community Chest President

At the annual meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest, John B. Morse was chosen president. The members, who met April 5 at the Peninsula Country Club for lunch, also elected John J. Redhead, vice president, Robert McKeever, treasurer, and reelected Marian B. Todd executive secretary.

Mr. Morse announced that the Chest had officially adopted the red feather symbol of the National Community Chest and red feather lapel pins were presented to past presidents at the luncheon.

Carmel Wedding

All Carmel was happy over the joyous wedding of Andrea Jean Del Monte and Peter Thatcher on Sunday, April 4, at the Church of the Wayfarer, in a double ring ceremony, performed by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray.

Carmel likes to see its favorite children grow up with happiness and mature with beautiful beginnings; the marriage of this young couple was indeed a beautiful begining for the whole event was planned with such meticulous care that every undertone of flower arrangement, color, music, was harmoniously carried out.

The twenty year old bride came to Carmel from Stockton eight years ago; she was graduated from the Carmel High School, took two and a half years at University of California at Berkeley, then spent her time in Carmel working three summers and on odd vacation days at the La Playa Hotel. The bridegroom was born in Ontario and came later to Carmel to attend Sunset and Carmel High School, and to graduate in engineering from University of California at Los Angeles. He then spent navy time as an ensign, and took post graduate work at the University of California in business administration.

All the school days and years of friendship reached their culmination when Andrea walked down the exquisitely decorated aisle, escorted by her father, popular police officer Andre Del Monte, and took her vows before the pink-flowered altar. She was gowned in cream satin with medieval effects in the long tight sleeves and scalloped neckline. Touches of sentiment were in the lace used in her veil which had been made by her grandmother, and in the handkerchief she carried, also her grandmother's.

Gowned in dusty blue faille, with matching blue hats, and carrying pink peonies which streamed down in a shower effect, were maid-of-honor, cousin Barbara Ridenour, from Lodi, now attending Mills College, and matron of honor, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Emory Stone from Oakland. Their gowns also carried out the medieval effect. In lovely contrasting colors were the yellow faille gowns, and orchid colored peonies, worn by bridesmaids Caroline Cory of Carmel, Nancy Ottinger of Fresno, and Margaret Chapdale of Stockton. Robert Ritzell of Los Angeles was best man, with Douglas Ridenour of San Francisco, James Handley of Carmel, James Chadwick of Los Angeles, Robert Parker of Berkeley as ushers.

The impressive ceremony, witnessed by over 200 guests, was beautifully completed with singing by Jean Blossom of Thorton, California, and Mills College, where she is a music major. Miss Blossom sang Schubert's Ave Maria and Greig's I Love You, and after the couple had knelt, she sang, Oh Perfect Love. Margaret Lea accompanied her at the organ.

The 200 guests, over 80 of them friends and relatives from Stock ton and Lodi, went to the La Playa Hotel where a reception was held for the newly married couple. The arrangements were so beautiful that everyone was convinced that April, not June, is the only time to be married. A four-tiered wedding cake, made by La Playa Chef Louis dominated a table of chapagne punch and hors d'oeuvres, and everywhere were spring flowers and satin ribbons and candles. Among those present in Peter Thatcher's family were: his mother, Mrs. Edith Thatcher, in grey lace and orchids, his father, Peter Thatcher of Ontario, his great uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson Wilson of Los Angeles, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Chapman, also of Los Angeles. Members of the bride's family, were: her mother, Mrs. Andre Del Monte, in bluish crepe with orchids, Mr. and Mrs. William Hild, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stuart, and Mrs. Norma Hammond and son Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Woodhull of Burlingame, Dr. and Mrs. Harris Ridenour of San Francisco, Dr. and Mrs. Irving Ridenour of Lodi, and Mrs. Harvey Braunton of Carmel.

The couple finally got underway on their honeymoon which was a trip to San Francisco, then an aeroplane flight to Seattle, and from there they took the boat to Victoria, where they are staying at the Empress Hotel, and sent word to Andrea's parents via wire that they couldn't be happier. They will make their home in Spokane, Washington, where Mr. Thatcher is an engineer with the Standard Oil Company.

Mrs. Howard Back

Mrs. Carol Howard has finally returned to Carmel after confusing all her friends as to her fifteen days absence. She wasn't kidnapped and it's all very simple. Mrs. Howard had merely gone to San Jose to visit her mother and father and do some shopping and then on to San Francisco where she stayed with Mrs. Richard Oliver and did a lot of dashing about getting visas ready for her April trip to Africa. She wound up her two weeks' absence with a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Edwards in Mills Valley, and they all had a most charming dinner on John Douglas Short's barge.

Valley Resting

Relaxing at the Carmel Valley Inn this week end were San Franciscans Mr. Van Stalen, and Dr. and Mrs. A. Gropper. Another couple were Dr. and Mrs. Tom Rogers up from Beverly Hills to have a rest in Northern California.

Lavendar and Lace

A Whistler portrait is 102 year old Auntie Burton, residing in the Annex of the Peninsula Community Hospital. Wrapped in a lavendar gown, her white head nestling in a mound of pillows, she spends mellow afternoons going through baskets of old cards, letters, photographs. She had a tremendous Easter time, for her room is filled with Easter lillies, spring flowers, and her basket has the addition of many spring cards.

Visitors From Minneapolis

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Atkinson arrived here March 18 to spend a month's vacation. They have several lots in Hatton Fields, plan to build and make their home here in a few years. One of Mrs. Atkinson's prized possessions is an album of photos taken on a visit here almost two decades ago. Inclosed are shots of a picnic party at Point Lobos at which the late William Silva and the first Mrs. Silva were hosts.

Berkeley Graduates Wed

March 19 at 5:00 p.m. the wedding of Berkeley graduates Robert Raymond Brown and Margaret Susheila Ufford took place here, Judge Ross officiating. The bride is from Los Angeles and has just graduated this year from the University of California at Berkeley where she majored in English. Mr. Brown is a postgraduate at Berkeley, studying now for his Doctor's degree in physics.

The groom's father, Mr. R. M. Brown, came out from Salt Lake City to attend the ceremony, and was accompanied from Los Angeles by Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Johnston who were also witnesses. The couple honeymooned in Carmel, were given a reception Saturady night, April 3, at the home of the groom's aunt, Mrs. Henry A. Hodes, in Piedmont, California, and are now making their home in Berkeley.

Theatre Survey

Ursula Halloran of Voice of the Turtle fame is still in Carmel working on her notes for a theatre survey. Miss Halloran's home is new York, and she has travelled across the country, stopping in as many towns as possible to study the university, community and children's theatre. She has probably visited around 60 theatres and has been most interested in middle west and California dramatic activities. Asked if it was usual for her to lend her attractive self for a leading role in each theatre she visited, Miss Halloran replied that it was most unusual and that her stay in Carmel has been the longest she has spent anywhere.

Leaving in a week or so for Los Angeles, she will return East via the south so that she may include Jacksonville and Charleston in her survey. She plans to make Dallas, Texas by April 23, which is the beginning of Little Theatre week there, and to reach as many other towns as possible on the dates that coincide with their most intense dramatic activity.

Literary And Musical Evening

On Thursday evening, April 15, a literary evening with a musical program will be given at Il Marzacco, Carmel home of the Reverend A. R. Bandini, scholar and lecturer from Florence, Italy. Father Bandini will give a reading of his English translations of Dante's Divine Comedy which follows the original in the intricate terza rima. Reverend Bandini has already given several lectures in San Francisco under the auspices of the Friends of Florence, to help raise funds to help those in need in war-miserable Florence.

Madame Joyce Zickhardt of Monterey will present a program of Italian music, and will be accompanied by Miss Angie Machado. Hostesses in charge of the meeting and serving the refreshments later, will be: Mrs. Mary Solari, Miss Lillian Hardy, Mrs. Louise Fry, and Mrs. Elsie Martinez.

Art Show

The artist in this week's exhibition presented by the Carmel Art Shop at the Seven Arts Gallery is a series of 12 Pastel Portraits by Mrs. Margaret M. Roeth, student of Miss Kay Rodgers. Mrs. Roeth did her student work at the California Arts and Crafts school when it was at its original location in Berkeley, and has attended no other art school until she started with Miss Rodgers' class a year ago last January. It is interesting to note, with her unique treatments of the portrait, that she had never drawn from life or done portraits before her entrance into the adult class.

All her models are from Carmel and particularly enticing are the two studies of Schatzi Herron. One is done with red shawl and white peasant blouse, making emphatic accents with Miss Herron's dark hair; the other is a light and smiling portrait. A serious study of Mr. William Hill has great merit, and a portrait of artist James Solt is one of the top features of the exhibit. Included in the show is the study of a smiling baby, Stephen Trapkus, and a clever study of a pert little dog. There is also a self portrait in which the artist places herself against an interestingly colored figured background, unusual in that all her other backgrounds are plain spaces of solid light color.

Center of sophisticated decor and charm is the Carmel Valley CAROUSEL, which opened with spring gaiety last Thursday, April 1. With a blazing fire and the golden glow of candles, hung with bright painings from the Pat Wall gallery, festive with Carousel colors and with the most unusual bar floor to be found anywhere, the CAROUSEL is perfectionist expression for easeful drinking and dining. The exotic menu lists such as Chinese chicken almond or Indian prawn curry with condiment tray and desserts of crepe suzette or Hawaiian coupe. April will find you happily playing at the CAROUSEL 12 miles up the Carmel Valley.

KIP'S FOOD CENTER greets spring with a number of tempting ideas to perk up the appetite. To serve with the time honored leg of lamb dinner they have new potatoes, local tomatoes, and fresh asparagus and peas. For a really superb salad try the combination of fresh pineapple, bananas, avocados and pink grapefruit. And to complement these Spring meals KIP'S cary a complete line of domestic and imported wines.

THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT has the Royal Hickman pattern in silver plated holloware. For spring wedding gifts be sure to see the five piece tea set, the punch bowl and the highly decorative martini jug. The Royal Hickman design is so elegantly simple that it will blend with older traditional patterns as well as the very modern. For that extra special gift go to THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT.

Block's made in California, Featheroy jackets are available at BRANSON'S MEN'S SHOP. These coats come in the seasons smartest colors, brown, maroon and green. They are cut and tailored with infinite attention to detail, and are moderately priced. And don't forget that BRANSON'S carries many lines of popularly priced, nationally advertised merchandise for the young man and the older young man.

For an unusual, delicious dinner try the PINE DEW SUKIYAKI RESTAURANT on Cass Street in Monterey. They are open from 11:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. every day except Wednesday. There is a choice menu of Japanese and American dishes, and you can have beer served with your meals. They also have Japanese fans, parasols and dishes (made in occupied Japan) for sale.

Blouses, blouses, blouses! GAIL COUPE'S on San Carlos Street has a new shipment of stunning blouses in taffetas, crepes, cottons and organdies. There is a style for every type skirt. The prints, some with contrasting ascot ties, and the gay plaids will add considerable enhancement to a plain suit. An especially dainty blouse in sheer, imported organdy is a must for evening wear. Whatever your blouse needs may be see the beautiful collection at GAIL COUPE'S.

For the mushroom fancier CARLETON'S has a complete stock. There are little pickled mushrooms to serve with your appetizers, broiled in butter mushrooms for omelets and steaks, and giant fresh mushrooms to enliven a plebian stew. Other gourmet items are frozen ducklings, dates in wine, pickled pineapple, watermelon and grapefruit rind, and imported canned truffles. Daily delivery service at 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m.

For an inspired spring breakfast order a loaf of Orange Nut Bread from the TUCK BOX. Or enjoy it when you go to the TUCK BOX for a delicious meal. Remember the hours: Breakfast, 8:00 to 11:00 a.m. Lunch, 11:30 to 2:30. Tea, 3:00 to 5:00. They also feature home made pies which must be ordered in advance.

Now is the time to get your figure ready for the wonderful summer fashions. Do you like to swim, play tennis or just sit in the sun? And do you find it embarrassing to wear the revealing clothes that these activities call for because of unbecoming bulges around the waist, or hips that are much too hippy? If so, PAT TINNIN of the GYRODUCING SALON advises a series of treatments that should have your figure considerably improved by summer. She gives gentle, mechanical massage and there are no baths, no rigorous dieting and no exercises. You keep your street clothes on during these wonderfully relaxing treatments. Drop into the new salon in the Steve Patterson building on Sixth near Dolores Street and make an appointment today!

Some of the most charming Petticoats in gray jersey with pearl pink and turquoise taffeta ruffles are being shown at BALZER'S this week. And so reasonable! Only $3.95 each. The same petticoat also comes in black with white, gray, and black ruffles. They also have wide taffeta cummerbands, at $1.95, and Ascot ties which match the lovely plaid ruffles. If it's a white petticoat you are seeking, be sure and see the sheer batiste number with blue ribbon edging the eyelet embroidery and gay little rosebuds to add an old fashioned note. There are matching rosebud nosegays to wear on your blouse or skirt.

There is no excuse for a faulty watch now that Mr. C. L. Winter of the VILLAGE JEWELERS on Dolores reports that he can repair it in one day in most cases. He has a complete stock of materials for nearly all makes of watches, an all work is guaranteed for one year! If you are in the market for a new timepiece he has a fine selection of Gruen, Waltham, and Elgin watches and also a varied stock of alarm clocks.

Please your family with a platter of crisp fried chicken this Sunday. Or take advantage of the daily-fresh broilers, roasters, and fricassees that MAC'S POULTRY on San Carlos Street has for week end specials, as well as the plump rabbits and geese. And, of course, you'll want a dozen or two of his grand ranch eggs.

The STAUFFER SYSTEM is more than just reducing: it improves circulation, puts insomniacs to rest, and shakes bad posture into good shape. There is no excuse for falling apart with the STAUFFER SYSTEM close at hand on Mission and Fifth. All treatments are given in private booths, there is no disrobing, you are touched by nothing but the machine which treats you. Get your health back with the STAUFFER SYSTEM.

Have you met ARMAND'S new partner, Ronald Redding, the English permanent wave expert whom Armand met in London during the war? Ronald took prizes in permanent waving in London and Paris and his skill is aptly demonstrated by the lasting loveliness of the waves he gives.

Drop into their elegant new shop on Dolores Street and admire the shell pink and turquoise decor while treating yourself to a personalized permanent, finger-wave or a manicure.

One of the most practical all around sports dresses is attracting a lot of attention at MAXINE'S on Dolores. It is a two piece stone cutter twill with short sleeves and a pencil skirt. Gold and silver buttons adorn the front, and the belt is of gold and silver kid, a wonderful dress for country club wear! Another attractive number is an imported Dutch seersucker in multi-colored stripes. It is classically tailored with a swing skirt, and ideal for shopping or the beach.

E. M. HEATH is pleased to announce the continued Sunday afternoon opening of her studio on Thirteenth and Lincoln in the hours between 1:00 and 5:00 p.m. You will have a chance to see E. M. HEATH'S paintings, and will find that studio visiting is a delightful way to spend your Sunday afternoons. These open studio afternoons will continue through April and May.

Martin Flavin, Jr. Visits

Dr. Martin Flavin, Jr., son of Martin Flavin, has been visiting in Carmel with Mrs. Frieda Sharpe and Miss Rosalind Sharpe and has spent some time on his ranch in Cachagua up the Carmel Valley. Dr. Flavin is on leave from the San Francisco County Hospital where he will be through with his interneship in July. Guest of Dr. Flavin, while he was here was Dr. Nag Basanti, nuclear physicist, who is on the staff of the University of Calcutta, India. Dr. Basanti is on sabbatical leave from Calcutta, spending part of his leave in a five month tour of Europe and is now staying in Berkeley, with one short trip to Carmel. Dr. Flavin left Carmel on Sunday to return to his medical duties in San Francisco.

Women Voters Candidates

A slate of nominees for office in the League of Women Voters for the coming year was announced by the nominating committee at the meeting in Sunset School Cafeteria last Friday afternoon. Voting will take place at the next general meeting at which time members may also make nominations from the floor. Mrs. Edmond Sullivan heads the list for a second term as president.

Other names offered are Mrs. Frances A. Ballard, first vice-president; Miss Orre Haseltine, second vice-president; Mrs. Peter J. Ferrante, treasurer; Mrs. Bruce Spencer, recording secretary; Mrs. Lee O. Kellogg, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Paul Low, Mrs. Philip Schneeburger, and Mrs. Kenneth Doolittle, directors. Members of the permanent nominating committee, also to be elected, include Mrs. Eben Whittlesey, Mrs. Paul Low, Mrs. N. M. Leoni, and Mrs. Frank Andrews. A fifth member will be selected by the present executive board, conforming with the League by-laws.

Mrs. Sullivan announced plans for the League to man a registration booth in a convenient location in the business district throughout next week, just before registration for voting in the June primary election closes April 22.

Carmelites Make Topeka Headlines

Dr. and Mrs. Russell Williams of the Carmel Highlands will return here sometime in June. They have been in Topeka, Kansas, where Dr. Williams has been doing work in psychosomatic medicine. It seems that along with psychosomatic investigations, the Williams made great strides in Topeka headlines, for instead of giving in to the nasty winter and remaining miserably indoors like everybody else does in Kansas, they flooded their back yard with water, let it freeze over, and had a delicious time skating. Everybody sniffed, then came coutiously skating too. Soon all Topeka was having a good time, and in the winter, at that! The newspaper took up the story, which was gay and grateful, but slightly tinged with bitterness that it took California to show Kansas how to have a good time. Of course, says Cynthia Williams, the backyard is now nothing but a lot of mud.

Eric Berne Gathering

One of the most pleasant of Dr Eric Berne's Sunday night gatherings was held this April 4, when, before a blazing fire, guests gathered to talk and listen to music. Among the guests enjoying the usual loaded buffet table, the pleasant conversation and the genial hospitality of Dr. Berne, were, Marie Short, Jake Kenney, San Colburn, June Degnan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meade Williams and Lt. Commander John Davis.

Mayor Celebrates Mayor's Birthday

Mayor of Monterey, Hugh Dormody, was given a big birthday celebration on La Playa Ranch by Carmel's mayor, Fred Godwin, and his wife, last Sunday, March 28. The celebration started at cocktail time and went on to a big barbecue dinner and plenty of festivity afterwards. Those gathered to honor Mayor Dormody were: the Mayor's wife, Mrs. Dormody, Captain Watkins, Commandant of the Navy Line School, General Doe, Commandant of Fort Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Byington Ford, 'Mr. Ford is Mayor of Aairway Village,' Mr. and Mrs. Howard Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. James Doud with Mrs. Doud's cousin, the Countess Von Strachwitz, Mrs. Jane Calkins, Mr. Frederick Stanley and his mother Mrs. Carl Stanley, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan London of San Francisco where Mr. London manages the St. Francis hotel.

Teacher Education Conference

Mr. Stuart Mitchell, principal of Carmel High School and district superintendent of Carmel schools, will be among the educators from all over the state who will meet at Asilomar next Sunday and Monday (April 11-12) for the Spring Conference of the California Council on Teacher Education.

The program will be highlighted by a report by Aubrey Douglass, of Sacramento, associate state superintendent of Public Instruction, on the as yet unpublished findings of the Commission on Higher Education in California.

Another feature of the program will be a report by Dr. Ray Perry, University of Southern California professor of education and chairman of the council's committee on general secondary credential requirements. Dr. Perry will review his committee's findings on suggested revisions in requirements for the state general secondary credential.

Roving Discs

Robbie and Paco Ferro, at long last, starting to build on their new land on the Jimmy Doud tract. They've discovered wonderful rock under the top soil and may end up with a series of catacombs. We remember a wonderful champagne christening picnic out there, and Paco starting to build a road all by himself.

Louise Pontukoff living in the valley now at White Oak Lodge, the two children with her.

Aloha to valley residents Louis and Lynn Conlan and three children Lynn, Sherry and Lee who flew to Honolulu Friday morning for a month's play and sun tanning.

Moira Courvoisier gaily entertaining Paris Peggy.

April Foolery: suave softspoken Mike Franke wending his way valley-ward with a truck full of mattresses and food for his Carousel opening (and prevue dinner that night) skidding his truck to a violent standstill and missing grave injury.

Earnest young novelist Leonard Woolf, now in Carmel completing a book on Big Sur life, making his way north for Berkeley visit, after circus playing in Monterey.

Baby Sitting: Bruce Arris and Alexander Oumansky, so everybody else could take in Les Enfants Du Paradis. Alexander spent the week end here, lunching with Gertrude Harris, dining with the Edward Kusters, and will be back this summer for more ballet teach-

It seems that Frances Ney and Virginia Varda are not going on that long planned trip. Or that Virginia is and Frances will dash off on her own somewhere. Frances looks wondreful these days, very slim, very beautiful. Let's hope she stays in Carmel and leaves that ranch life alone.

Fashion Show

Classically basic clothes were featured by the Carmel Dress Shop at the Fashion Show on Wednesday in the Pine Inn. Simplicity, plus excellent tailoring made the clothes ideal wear for women of the peninsula.

Margo Bauer's dark beauty was enhanced by a brown twill suit with a gold buttoned Eton jacket and a pencil skirt. With it she wore a pure silk print blouse, ideal outfit for trips to San Francisco or informal dining out, as was the rich red gabardine shown by Blanche Schmitz.

A crepe navy blue dress worn by Mrs. Alfred Balsam had a matching cummerbund which emphasized the soft fullness at the back. The curved V neck made a most attractive setting for costume jewelry or bright scarves.

Mrs. Taylor modeled two form fitting dresses that were ideal for the young slim figure. One was in a sharp green blue with a divided peplum creating a smooth hip line, and the other was sand color with an unusual collar of deep pleats and a long basque waist.

A striking dance and dine frock in navy crepe with a fitted torso and a swirling taffeta skirt was shown to advantage by Margo Bauer.

With summer weather impending, the cottons enjoyed a great deal of attention from the lunchers. The dramatic purple and orchid two toned Lonsdale cotton that Margo Bauer wore had long sleeves, a tucked bodice and a swing skirt. Another Lonsdale cotton was the aqua golfing dress with a fly front and adjustable sleeves for active sports that Mrs. Balsam modeled. The crisp grey Bedford cord with a peter pan collar and full skirt, the two piece red and white seersucker, and the Hope Skillman cotton diagonal stripe in grey, color and maroon with push up sleeves and white collar and cuffs were also especially notable.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" This question is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, April 11. The Golden Text is from Isaiah: "Israel shall be saved in the Lord with an everlasting salvation" (45:17).

Included in the sermon are the following citations:

Luke: "Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them" (4:40).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus strips all disguise from error, when his teachings are fully understood. By parable and argument he explains the impossibility of good producing evil; and he also scientifically demonstrates this great fact, proving by what are wrongly called miracles, that sin, sickness, and death are beliefs—illusive errors — which he could and did destroy" (p. 343).

2 New Men Face Incumbents In Airport Election

Two new men and three incumbents are running for election Tuesday for three seats on the Monterey Airport Board. The new candidates are John W. McBain of Monterey and Tom Mathews of Jacks Peak.

McBain, a telephone technician, is chairman of the new East Monterey Citizens' League.

Tom Mathews, a pilot with many years' experience, says it is his opinion that there should be a man with an aviation background on the board, whereas all present members are business and professional men.

Mathews started flying in San Diego in 1925, and ran one of the first airlines in the country, operating between San Francisco and Los Angeles. In 1928 he was assistant sales manager for Mahoney-Ryan Aircraft corporation, and has handled advertising for the Douglas, Kinner, and Lockheed aircraft companies.

He took up his residence on the Peninsula in 1930. During the war he was a civilian flight instructor at the Army's primary flight school at King City.

He is one of the charter members of the Airplane Owners and Pilots Association, and at present is helping build a midget racer to enter in the Goodyear Trophy race at Cleveland this fall. He is also a member of the Monterey County sheriff's aerial squadron.

Among those signing Mathew's petition of candidacy were Bill Irwin, Paul Zaches and Clayton Neill.

TOM MATHEWS

The three incumbents running for seats on the board are Fred Godwin, Harry Brownell, Monterey dentist, and Charles Olmstead, engineer for Del Monte Properties.

For a report on the record of the present board see the accompanying column.

to take up duties on the new. In 1926 she was appointed clerk of the Sunset School board, and she remained with the school trustees until 1934. Miss Kellogg has been a member of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Sunset School, and served in the capacities of president, vice president and chairman of that group. She has also been affiliated with the League of Women Voters on the Peninsula.

Miss Kellogg lived with her sister, Ella M. Kellogg, at her home at Casanova and 9th, which she built in 1928.

She is survived by a sister, Ella M. Kellogg of Carmel; a brother, Lee O. Kellogg, also of Carmel; three nieces, Mary Kellogg of Carmel and Ruth Kellogg of Berkeley, and Mrs. H. W. Brinkman of Swarthmore, Penn., and a nephew, John Kellogg, of New Mexico.

Private funeral services will be announced later by the family, which requests friends not to send flowers.

Frederick Adams

Funeral services were held Saturday for Dr. Frederick Adams, 68, former Seattle physician who came to Carmel two years ago. Dr. Adams, who resided at Monte Verde and Eleventh streets, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice Adams of Carmel; a daughter, Mrs. Donald Wolden of Oakland; a brother, Dr. Jack Adams of Calgary, Canada; and two sisters, Mrs. James Coombs of Toronto, Canada, and Mrs. Omar Patrick of Calgary.

Inurnment was at the Watsonville Columbarium on April 3.

Finley, Frost Back Air Port Encumbents For Re-Election

Dr. James Finley and Charles Frost, holdover directors of the Monterey Peninsula Airport District board, today endorsed Fred Godwin, Charles Olmstead and Dr. Harry Brownell, the other three members of the board for re-election Tuesday.

Olmstead, chairman, is the oldest director, having served for seven years, while the others serv four year terms.

"These men are thoroughly familiar with the operation of the airport and have done such a magnificient job in handling it in the past that I feel they should be re-elected so that we can maintain the same efficient service as in the past" said Frost.

"We have Fred Kane in charge. He is one of the best known and most experienced pilots and airplane experts in this country. He was a Lt. Colonel during the war and served as chief test pilot for the Russian mission. He taught aviation for years and has had more than 25 years experience."

The board of directors has charge of operation of the airport and the property there. The Civil Aeronautics Airport Development program invested $1,672,000 with the provision that it be kept open as a public airport and landing field for the military. The Monterey Peninsula spent $250,000 as a result of a bond issue. More than $60,000 worth of these bonds have been retired under the board's management.

During March 4,272 local civilian landings and take offs were made at the airport. There were also 2,548 Navy, 500 civilian visitors and 112 military visitors. The largest number of landings and take-offs at the airport for any one month was 11,500 and the smallest 7,000. There are ten air line schedules a day, eight for Southwestern and two United Airlines.

The Navy pays not less than 50 percent of the upkeep of the runways, lights and drainage system and must operate the air traffic control tower at its own expense of $18,000 a year under the contract made by the present board of directors.

The board also can limit the Navy to 50 percent of the capacity of the field. The board made a deal with the Navy some time ago, whereby it acquired three buildings for one and is in complete control of the operation.

"This is why" said Mr. Frost "It is essential that the present board be retained. No other airport in the country is more efficiently handled and it is a mistake to change the personnel. Mr. Olmstead's experience, after so many years of efficient service, is valuable to the community in his administration of airport control."
